

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

NOW HIRING: RESOURCE & MEDIA DEVELOPER

Background

MUN Students' Union (MUNSU) represents over 13,000 undergraduate students studying through Memorial University of Newfoundland's St. John's campus. MUNSU is a not-for-profit organization that advocates for students through campaigns and lobbying while also providing cost-saving services and student life programming for its members.

Salary: $14.05 per hour (biweekly pay); 40 total hours over the semester

Duration: Hours must be completed during the Fall 2019 semester

Eligibility Requirements

- Must be a MUNSU member registered full-time during the semester (minimum three courses)
- Must not be on a work term
- Must meet university MUCEP academic requirements
(cumulative average of 60% or above, or; average in last 10 courses of 60% or above, or; applying with support through the Blundon Centre – more details on academic requirements found at <https://www.mun.ca/student/student-success/work-experience/MUCEP.php>)

Job Description & Qualifications

Working directly with the Executive Director of Advocacy, this role will provide general assistance with MUNSU's advocacy work by developing resources and/or media, with a particular interest in applicants who can develop resources with interactive media components. Formal or self-taught computer science or graphic design skills would be considered a strong asset for this position, but are not required.

The selected candidate will need to work with the Director of Advocacy, but be able to contribute creative/technical ideas and expertise when it comes to execution of projects and tasks. There is no preintended software, platform, or coding language for this project, so a wide range of experience and strengths will be considered. If you have any experience in building or sourcing resources, media assets, or similar content, please mention this in your cover letter.

Here's what we're looking for in an ideal candidate:

- Strong communication, creative, and design/technical skills
- Demonstrated history of accountability and self-direction
- Understanding of intersectionality, structural inequalities, and equity work
- Interest in the MUN Students' Union, the student movement, and/or student issues

To Apply

The MUN Students' Union is an employment equity employer. Applications from all qualified candidates are welcome; in particular, applications are encouraged from racialised people, indigenous people, people with disabilities, queer and trans people, and women.

To apply for the Resource & Media Developer MUCEP position, include the job title in your subject line and submit a resume and class schedule to:
